PPR Cinemas

Introduction

The group looked at various ideas including hotel and travel booking systems but we decided on a cinema theme as this is something we had a joint interest in.

PPR Cinemas is based Enniskillen. The name was taken from the first letters of the group members, Peter, Peter and Rory.

General problem: Tickets for the films are currently only available for purchase over the telephone or by visiting the cinema. Orders are recorded on paper and stored away.

As the cinema is getting very popular this method is no longer suitable. It is time consuming and often leads to errors being made due to the staff members making mistakes recording the details.

Solution: We will be creating a website to allow visitors to view what films are available. Customers will have the option to select a film, date and time and make payments via a secure payment form. Then Print off their tickets accordingly.

System Investigation

My aim was to convert a manual book system for a cinema so a customer can access the website and navigate through the website and book a ticket for a film on a particular date.

I looked into other cinema websites and evaluated how they were built – the cinema website we built in turn consisted of an About/Contact us page, a page listing the films viewable in that cinema, the ticket prices, and the food and beverages available.

Inspiration:

<https://www.odeon.co.uk/>

This commercial website is a prime example that consists of what movies are in display now, as well as the ticket payments.

We wanted to make the display of the website different from the ones shown above.

<https://www.cineworld.co.uk/#/buy-tickets-by-cinema?in-cinema=undefined&view-mode=list>

This is another clean example of the website that mainly showed the movies currently on, as well as other kinds of details and gifts that can be paid off. The site allows the user to make a booking immediately in the front page.

System languages

We are Creating this website in a text editor using the languages HTML (HyperText Markup Language), CSS (Cascading Style Sheets) and JS (JavaScript).

This can be done in a number of text editors. The one's used in our group is the text editor atom (atom.io), brackets (brackets.io) and notepad++ (notepad-plus-plus.org). These programs were all free and opensourced on time of use.

To make things for efficient and modern looking we used the front-end component library Bootstrap (getbootstrap.com). Bootstrap is an opensource tool kit "for developing with HTML, CSS, and JS". Exactly the 3 languages we are developing in for this project which makes it an ideal candidate to freshen up our design.

The Documentation¹ section of bootstrap contains many examples and images of how they display information. Combining what was possible and easily accessible with bootstrap and through our inspiration of pages we came up with a design intended to grab the users attention.

Methodology

The layout of our website was thought of in detail.

The top

Odeon and Cineworld both have large images at the top of their website indicating what is on or coming up.

The Jumbotron is great example of the large container to grab attention; this will sit at the top of the website and be the first thing on every web page.

The nav

Next up is navigation.

Again, Odeon and Cineworld both use a navigation bar (navbar) which is accessible on Bootstrap, this will allow the user to travel from page to page. Bootstrap also adapts the smaller screen sizes which gives us a stepping stone to producing the a dynamic multi-platform website.

That is the top of the website sorted.

The footer

Again, Odeon and Cineworld also had detailed footers containing useful information on the bottom of every page. Our footer will be distinguishable and useful to all users.

Features

Now important page content and features. When booking a show at the cinema, it's important to get the timing correct. Therefore we decided to include a time feature using the information gained from w3school (https://www.w3schools.com/jsref/jsref_obj_date.asp) we'd be able to help make a clock on the website to reassure the user they've booked a show which is possible to see.

¹ <https://getbootstrap.com/docs/4.3/getting-started/introduction/>

Those are the features we agreed to be on every web page.

Next up the color scheme was settled to use colors featuring from the ulster university, as this is an ulster university course/module the colors made a lot of sense to put together.

Color scheme:

UU colors

obtained from https://www.ulster.ac.uk/__data/assets/pdf_file/0008/391058/UU-Brand-Guidelines-April-2019.pdf

pure Gold: #BBA461

core blue (dark): #00003F

Night Black: #000000

Ghost White: #FFFFFF

Stone Grey: #5E6D77

Light Grey: #C6D1D6

Deep Blue: #151F6D

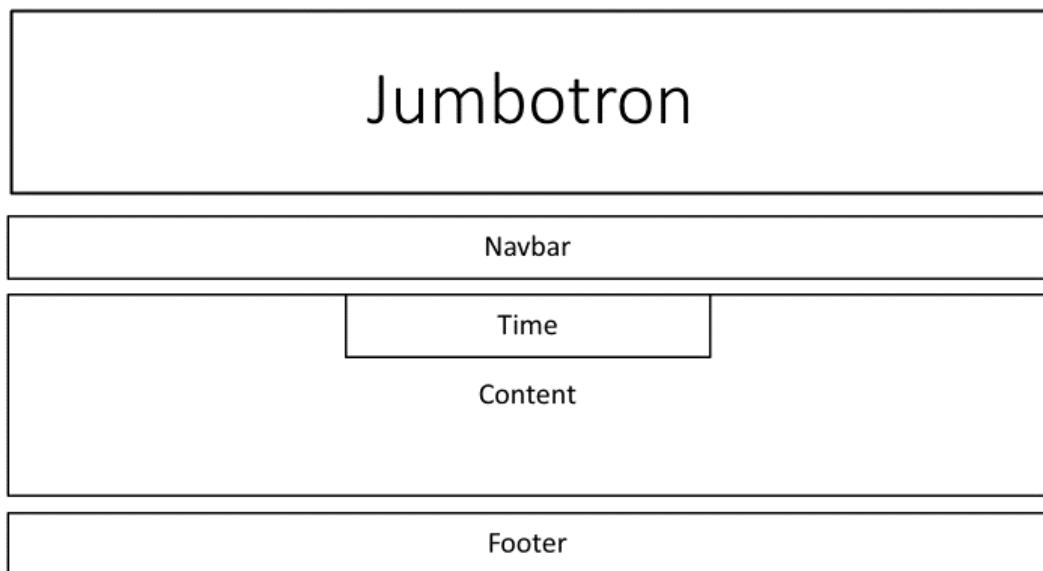

Bright Blue: 009FDF

Core Blue: #041E42

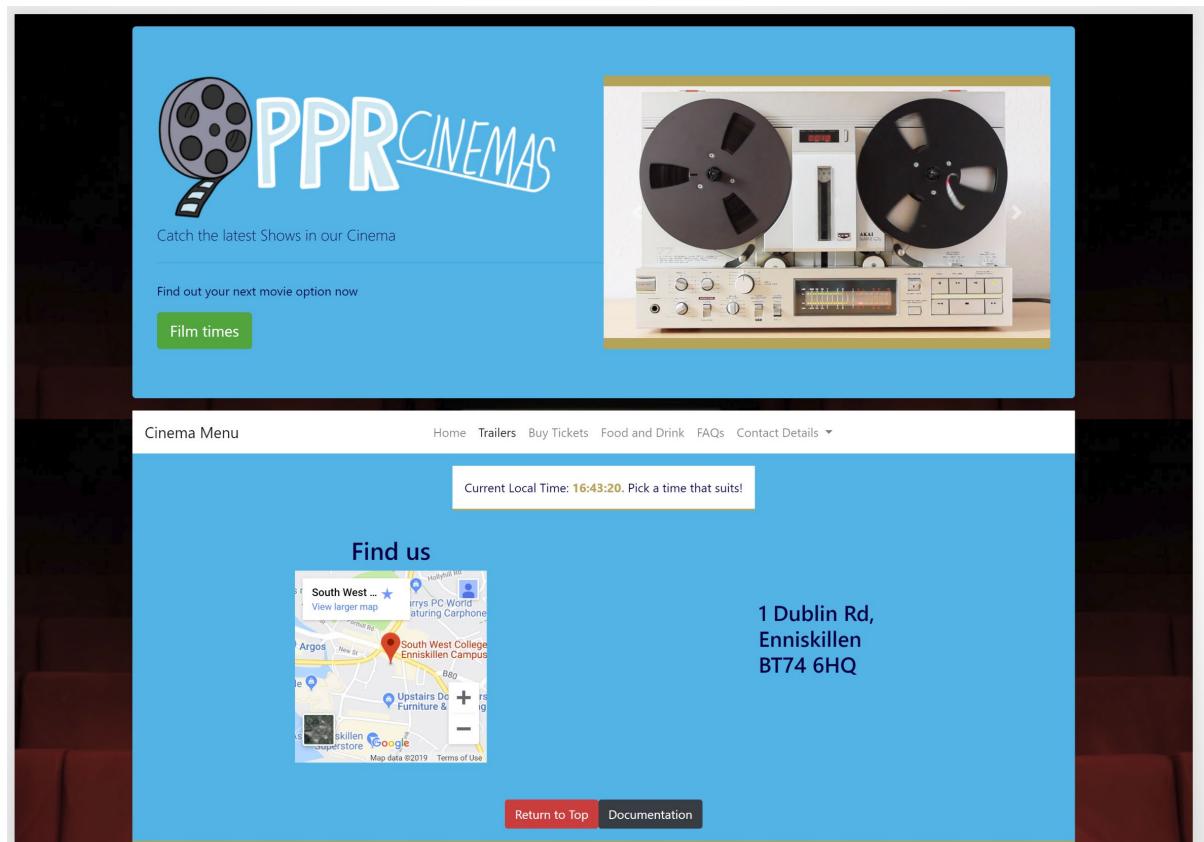

Sky Blue: #00B5E2

As we constructed a templated design for each page. We found the Sky blue and core blue to be very complimentary and then used the gold was used to highlight important features of text. Such as the clock.

Therefore, we produced a wire frame for what we expect all paged to look like.

With No page content the template.html looks like this:

Template coded by Peter Hassard.

Team 11 PPR Cinemas by Peter Hassard, Peter Bruce and Rory Bowden.

The 6 Pages were then decided on which meant 2 pages each:

The Home page

- By Peter Hassard
- Page showing what is on now and times the shows are on

The Trailers Page

- By Peter Hassard
- A more detailed look at each movie being shown

The Buy Tickets Page

- By Peter Bruce
- The purchasing page for each ticket

The Food and Drinks Page

- By Rory Bowden
- Details on what is on sale and how much it costs

The FAQs Page

- By Peter Bruce
- Questions with a corresponding answer on each page

The Contact Details Page

- By Rory Bowden
- Details about us, location and contact us

Each page is a unique opportunity for each individual of the team to express their coding abilities.

These were then tidied up and polished by Peter Hassard.

The Page in Detail section will explain more.

Rejected page ideas were:

Landing page because it seemed unnecessary

Future films page, too similar to the home and trailers page.

Preordering of food. Unrealistic use for a cinema

Selecting a seat. Too advanced functionality may mean creating profiles or settings, it couldn't be agreed on.

Home Page

The screenshot shows the homepage of the PPR Cinemas website. At the top, there's a blue header with the PPR Cinemas logo, which includes a film reel icon and the text "PPR CINEMAS". Below the logo, a sub-header says "Catch the latest Shows in our Cinema". A button labeled "Find out your next movie option now" is followed by a green button labeled "Film times". To the right of the text is a small image of a vintage-style film projector.

The main content area is titled "Cinema Menu" and features a navigation bar with links to Home, Trailers, Buy Tickets, Food and Drink, FAQs, and Contact Details. It also displays the "Current Local Time: 17:12:30. Pick a time that suits!"

The page lists several movies with their posters, descriptions, showtimes, ratings, and links to IMDB and trailers:

Will fill in a simple booking form and collect data.

Peter Bruce chose the format, Peter Hassard coded the Javascript to calculate price and autofill the form.

A correctly filled out form will produce the order summary page

The main content area has a blue header bar with "Cinema Menu" and navigation links: Home, Trailers, Buy Tickets, Food and Drink, FAQs, Contact Details. It also displays the "Current Local Time: 17:24:04".

The "Order Summary" section is titled "Summary of your transaction". It contains the following details:

- Ticket Date: Tuesday open
- Movie Name: Avengers: Endgame
- Movie Time: 14:30
- Number of Ticket(s) x 1
- Total Price x £5

At the bottom of the summary section are two buttons: "Return to Booking Form" and "Proceed to Payment".

The footer section is titled "Find us" and includes a Google Map showing the location of the cinema at "1 Dublin Rd, Enniskillen BT74 6HQ". It also provides contact information: Phone: 028 8225 0109, Email: ppr@pprcinemas.com, and a Facebook link. There are also "Return to Top" and "Documentation" buttons.

This was added in to give the user a more complete sense of a ticket being purchased through the site.

The print function which happens after the payment is made was added by Peter Hassard.

Food and Drink Page

The screenshot shows the food and drink section of the PPR Cinemas website. At the top, there's a logo with a film reel icon and the text "PPR CINEMAS". Below it, a banner says "Catch the latest Shows in our Cinema" and "Find out your next movie option now". A green button labeled "Film times" is visible. To the right, there's a photo of a vintage-style reel-to-reel tape recorder. The main content area has a blue header with "Cinema Menu" and navigation links like Home, Trailers, Buy Tickets, Food and Drink, FAQs, and Contact Details. A timestamp "Current Local Time: 17:25:21. Pick a time that suits!" is shown. The main heading "What's on the Menu" is followed by two sections: "Food" and "Drink", each with a list of items and prices. To the right of the menu lists is a large image of a red and white striped popcorn bucket overflowing with popcorn. Below this is a promotional box with the text "Have fun at the cinema", "Still can't decide?", "Check out the Trailer's Page!", and a "Trailers" button. The bottom section, titled "Find us", includes a map showing the cinema's location on South West Street, Enniskillen, and contact information: "1 Dublin Rd, Enniskillen BT74 6HQ", "Phone: 028 8225 0109", "Email: ppr@pprcinemas.com", and a "Facebook" link. FAQ's

+ HOW OLD DO I NEED TO BE TO PURCHASE A TICKET VIA THE WEBSITE?

Please note that ticket purchasers need to be a minimum of 13 years of age.

+ WHAT DO THE FILM CERTIFICATES MEAN?

U - Universal: It is impossible to predict what might upset any particular child. But a 'U' film should be suitable for audiences aged four years and over. 'U' films should be set within a positive moral framework and should offer reassuring counterbalances to any violence, threat or horror.

PG - Parental Guidance: General viewing, but some scenes may be unsuitable for young children. Unaccompanied children of any age may watch. A 'PG' film should not disturb a child aged around eight or older. However, parents are advised to consider whether the content may upset younger or more sensitive children.

(12A) - No one younger than 12 may see a '12A' film in a cinema unless accompanied by an adult, and films classified '12A' are not recommended for a child below 12.

An adult may take a younger child if, in their judgement, the film is suitable for that particular child. In such circumstances, responsibility for allowing a child under 12 to view lies with the accompanying adult. (15) - No-one younger than 15 may see a '15' film in a cinema. (18) - No-one younger than 18 may see an '18' film in a cinema.

+ WHY ARE SOME FILMS NOT SHOWN IN ALL OF YOUR CINEMAS?

We endeavour to show a broad range of films, however it is not always possible to show all films at every cinema.

+ CAN I WATCH A 3D FILM IF I WEAR NORMAL GLASSES?

Yes of course, simply place the 3D glasses over your normal glasses and enjoy the film.

Eleven Questionnaires were completed on the website.

1. Was the purpose of the website clear to you on initial viewing.

Everybody agreed that the purpose of the website was clear on initial viewing with the banner and logo being emphasised as important.

Comments : All comments were positive

2. Did the website and its contents load quickly?

Everybody except two people agreed that the website loaded quickly. The slower loading seemed to be an issue with the safari browser on a Mac.

3. How satisfied are you with the design of the website?

Five were very satisfied

Four were satisfied

Two were dissatisfied

The dissatisfied comments covered too much white space, accessibility for coloured blind people and design layout.

4. Was the website easy to read, and were the colours harmonious?

Everybody but two agreed who felt there should be more contrast with the colours

5. Was the website easy to navigate?

Everybody agreed that it was easy to navigate with some very positive comments.

6. Did the menu of items make sense to you?

All agreed that it did make sense with good labelling.

7. Did you find the images clear and interesting?

Everybody found the images clear and interesting with positive remarks on the trailers and videos.

8. Did you find the website information succinct and informative?

Everybody agreed that the information was informative and succinct but could be improved by including forthcoming movies as well as those on at present.

9. How satisfied are you with your experience with the Cinema website.

Five Very Satisfied

Four satisfied

One neutral

One Dissatisfied

Some comments on improving the trailer sizes to full screen and printing tickets without payment but the e commerce element was not part of the scope of the website at this prototype stage. Some issues with the need for some buttons.

10. What additional information or features would you like included on the Cinema website?

Option to add food and drink with tickets

Increase number of tickets that can be ordered.

Future films and promotions.

No need for time on website.

Gluten free and vegetarian options for food.

Conclusion

The Surveys were a great help in understanding how far we have came when producing this website.

I feel like the time and effort put in was worth it to hear such positive reinforcing feedback.

There were areas were we could improve but I feel those were in areas we agreed as a team.

We believe as a goal to achieve what we wanted it has been done.

Overall as a team we worked well in getting the job done and hope you enjoyed the website.
